- (c) permit its Associated Companies or any other Person to whom it has delegated the whole or any aspect of the administration or management of a Structure or the Services or appointed to assist in the same, to receive their usual remuneration, commissions, payments, benefits and profits,

(the "Remuneration").

10.2 ST shall not be liable for any costs, deductions and expenses properly incurred and payable in the administration of, or otherwise in connection with, any Services provided to a Structure (including, but not limited to, legal costs, stamp and other taxes and duties, any applicable statutory fees and expenses (including without limitation any fees payable by any Structure Entity to any Data Protection Authority), penalties and bank charges and any legal and other costs incurred in recovering any sums due to ST) all of which will be payable by the Structure or the Client. ST shall have a lien or charge over the assets of any Structure ranking prior to the interests of any Client for the payment of its Remuneration or the reimbursement of any such costs, deductions and expenses.

10.3 Each Structure shall maintain a minimum cash balance sufficient to meet the subsequent twelve months' outgoings including the Remuneration and reasonable contingencies. Should a Structure Entity not maintain sufficient funds to keep it in good standing ST shall be under no obligation to meet the payment of expenses nor the on-going provision of relevant Services. Overdraft interest, at the then prevailing interest rate for current account unauthorised overdrafts at ST's principal bankers from time to time, will be charged on any shortfalls which arise as a result of insufficient funds being held by the Structure to cover such outgoings.

10.4 Further to, and without derogating from the provisions of, Clause 10.3 above, should ST (acting reasonably) at any time consider that the liquidity of any Trust is insufficient to meet the current and/or anticipated expenses (including Remuneration) and/or the (actual and reasonably foreseeable) liabilities of the Trust (the "Trust Expenses"), then, and in such event, ST shall be entitled to demand, by delivery of notice in writing to the Client (the "Written Notice"), that the Client:

- (a) if it is the settlor, or an economic settlor of the Trust, gifts or loans (on an interest-free basis), or
- (b) if it is not the settlor, or an economic settlor of the Trust:
 - (i) loans (on such terms, including as to interest, as ST determines), or
 - (ii) procures that the settlor or economic settlor of the Trust, gifts or loans (on an interest-free basis), such amount to the Trust as ST (acting reasonably) deems reasonably necessary in the circumstances to discharge or otherwise make provision for the discharging of the Trust Expenses. Any such amounts contributed to the Trust must be accompanied by evidence satisfactory to ST as to the source of funds and the source of wealth in respect of such amounts.

10.5 For the avoidance of doubt, and further to clause 10.4 above, it shall be in ST's sole discretion whether to demand that the Client itself (whether it is the settlor or economic settlor of the Trust or not) makes the abovementioned gift or loan (as the case may be) or that the Client procures such gift or loan from the settlor or economic settlor of the Trust.

10.6 The Client shall make the gift or loan, or procure that the gift or loan is made, to the Trust as soon as reasonably possible, but in any event no later than five (5) Business Days after receipt of the Written Notice.

- 10.7 Any loan advanced to the Trust pursuant to the provisions of this Clause 10 shall be repayable by the Trust at such time as ST (acting reasonably) determines that it can be repaid without creating liquidity problems for the Trust or Structure.
- 10.8 Subject to the terms of the Structure Documentation or any Agreement, ST may, as it thinks fit and without the Client's or Structure's prior or simultaneous approval (as appropriate), pay from the assets of the Structure any Remuneration, disbursements or other expenses due to be paid or any Liabilities (including tax liabilities) in respect of the Structure or from any assets held by ST on behalf of the Client if they are liable for such payment notwithstanding that the liabilities may not be strictly enforceable against ST. ST shall be entitled to exoneration and indemnity out of the Structure for any liability, loss, or expense and interest incurred in making such payments.
- 10.9 All invoices raised by ST shall be payable on presentation to the Client and no later than thirty (30) days from the invoice date.
- 10.10 To the extent that any Remuneration, disbursements or other expenses whatsoever owing to ST are not discharged within thirty (30) days from the invoice date, ST shall be entitled to charge interest on such outstanding sums at the Interest Rate. ST shall be under no obligation to carry out any further work in relation to any Structure on any matter, or provide the Services, until all overdue amounts have been paid in full and free of set-off or deduction. ST shall at no stage be required to apply its own funds to settle any disbursement on behalf of, or liability of, any Structure and reserves the right not to settle any disbursement or liability where funds are not available in which event ST shall not incur any liability for any Liabilities howsoever arising.
- 10.11 ST reserves the right at its discretion to commission a revaluation of the assets (whether held directly or indirectly) comprised in any Structure at any time or times and at the expense of the Structure, notwithstanding that one of the consequences or the only consequence of such revaluation would be to vary the level of remuneration chargeable by ST where fees are calculated by reference to such values.
- 10.12 ST may adopt such valuation basis (ignoring any liabilities or contingent liabilities) as ST in its absolute discretion thinks fit. Where the market value of such assets can be readily ascertained it is ST's general policy to use the market valuation for the purposes of calculating its Remuneration.
- 10.13 ST may require the Client to provide whatever information or documentation it may require from the Client for purposes of such valuation and the Client shall be obliged to provide such information or documentation that it may hold or that may be under its control and any failure to provide such information or documentation within a reasonable time shall constitute a material breach of the Agreement.

11. Recording of telephone calls and emails

- 11.1 To ensure that ST is able to carry out the Client's Communications accurately, to help ST to improve its service and in the interests of security, ST may monitor and/or record the Client's telephone calls with ST and monitor or record email correspondence between ST and the Client and the Client consents to such monitoring and/or recording. ST's recordings shall be and remain ST's sole property and ST shall have the authority to deliver copies or transcripts of such recordings to any court, tribunal, arbitrator or regulatory authority of competent jurisdiction as it sees fit.

12. Assignment

- 12.1 Save as specifically set out herein, the Client shall not assign or otherwise transfer all or any part of its rights, benefits and/or obligations under these Terms and Conditions or any Agreement without ST's prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld).
- 12.2 Subject to Clause 7.3 above, and notwithstanding the above, ST may assign or subcontract its rights under these Terms and Conditions or any Agreement provided that it gives prior written notice of such dealing to the Client.

13. Custody of assets

- 13.1 ST may deposit all monies, deeds and documents of the Structure, the Structure Documentation and any Agreement which it considers appropriate with any reputable bank. Any monies, deeds and documents so deposited shall be under the exclusive control of ST. Where appropriate all investments and property shall be registered in the name of ST, its custodians or their nominees. ST does not accept any responsibility for any deeds or documents held in safe custody that are damaged or lost as a result of theft, fire, water damage or force majeure, in the absence of actual fraud, Gross Negligence or wilful default of ST.

14. Conflicts of interest

- 14.1 ST and its Associated Companies provide a wide range of services for a large number of clients and may be in a position where they or an Associated Company are providing services to other clients which the Client might regard as giving rise to a conflict of interest. This may include, but is not limited to, acting as manager, administrator or in any other role for any other company, corporation or body of persons on such terms as may be arranged with such company, corporation or body of persons. Neither ST nor its Associated Companies shall be affected with notice of or to be under any duty to disclose any fact or thing which may come to their knowledge in the course of so doing or in the course of its/their business in any other capacity or in any manner whatsoever otherwise than in the course of carrying out its duties to the Client under the Terms and Conditions.
- 14.2 Where ST becomes aware or is made aware of such circumstances, and where it believes the Client's interests can be properly safeguarded, it will implement procedures to preserve confidentiality in accordance with the disclosure of information provisions in these Terms and Conditions and to ensure the Services which the Client receives from ST are independent and, where in the reasonable opinion of ST it is considered appropriate, it will discuss and agree these with the Client, in line with ST's conflicts of interest policy for the Relevant Jurisdiction and the Laws of the Relevant Jurisdiction.
- 14.3 Unless otherwise agreed with the Client in writing, ST maintains the right to decide on the course to be adopted in the handling of any matter and the appropriate personnel to undertake the work.
- 14.4 Unless otherwise agreed with the Client in writing, neither ST nor any Associated Company shall be precluded from acting in any transaction or for any other Person with which the Client is associated or has any dealings.
- 14.5 The Client shall notify ST promptly of any potential conflict affecting the Terms and Conditions and the Agreement of which it is, or becomes, aware.

15. Termination

- 15.1 Upon or in contemplation of the termination of the Services, ST together with any Associated Company and Employees, shall be entitled to pay out of the assets of the Structure and/or to make retentions and receive such indemnities as may be permitted by the Laws of the Relevant Jurisdiction as it may require for such costs, taxes and duties, fees and expenses, including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, any amounts as it or they may think appropriate in respect of any actual or contingent Liability and may take such action as it or they deem necessary to limit such Liability. Where any retention is made that exceeds the Liability in respect of which the retention was made, such surplus, once ascertained, shall be repaid without undue delay to the Client or the Structure, as appropriate.
- 15.2 To the extent permissible by Law, the Structure Documentation and any Agreement, ST may terminate an Agreement or cease to provide the Services in whole or in part, with immediate effect and without penalty or liability upon written notice to the Client if ST determines that:
- (a) a governmental, regulatory or professional or similar entity, has introduced a new, or modified an existing Law, rule, regulation, interpretation, or decision, the result of which would render ST's performance of any part of the Agreement illegal or in breach of professional rules, or
 - (b) circumstances change (including, without limitation, changes in ownership of the Client) so that ST's performance of any part of the Agreement would be illegal or otherwise unlawful or in conflict with professional rules or with ST's reasonable interpretation of Law and practice, and ST will inform the Client as soon as reasonably practicable and permitted after ST becomes aware of a situation which could result in termination in accordance with this Clause.
- 15.3 To the extent permissible by Law, the Structure Documentation or any Agreement, all and any obligation to provide the Services shall cease and ST and its Associated Companies or Employees may resign from any office held by them respectively in connection with the provision of the Services:
- (a) upon the expiry of not less than three (3) months' notice of termination given by ST to the Client, or
 - (b) upon the termination by the Client of its relationship with ST pursuant to Clause 15.5, or
 - (c) immediately, upon ST giving to the Client notice of termination in the event of:
 - (i) the Client or the Structure becoming insolvent or going into liquidation (other than a voluntary liquidation for the purpose of reconstruction or merger upon terms previously approved in writing by ST) or administration or if some event having equivalent effect occurs, or
 - (ii) the Client committing a material breach of these Terms and Conditions, the Structure Documentation or any Agreement and, if such breach is capable of remedy, the Client not making good such breach within one (1) month of service upon the Client of notice requiring the remedy of such breach, or
 - (iii) the Client failing to make available to ST, the Employees or Associated Companies the information and documentation required under these Terms and Conditions or as required from time to time by ST the Employees or Associated Companies to enable them to provide the Services either when required or in a form acceptable to ST.

- 15.4 To the extent permissible by Law, all and any obligation to provide the Services shall cease and ST and its Associated Companies or Employees may resign from any office held by them respectively in connection with the provision of the Services without giving notice if ST becomes aware that or considers that:
- (a) the Client is, or may become, subject in any part of the world to investigation by any judicial or regulatory authority or criminal proceedings are instituted or threatened against the Client or in relation to it, or
 - (b) continuing to provide the Services would be assisting a criminal activity, or
 - (c) continuing to provide the Services would constitute a breach of any Law or government sanction, or
 - (d) the Client has provided ST with any false or misleading information at any time, or
 - (e) it is inappropriate for a Person or Authorised Person authorised to give Communications to do so, or
 - (f) the behaviour of the Client means it is inappropriate for ST to continue to provide the Services, or
 - (g) in continuing to provide Services ST may suffer damage to its reputation, or
 - (h) the Client has been in serious or persistent breach of these Terms and Conditions or any supplementary terms and conditions,
 - (i) the Client at any time fails to meet the applicable eligibility criteria including but not limited to where the Client is or becomes resident in a country or territory with legal or regulatory restrictions on ST continuing to provide the Services.
- 15.5 To the extent permissible by Law, the Structure Documentation and any Agreement, the Client may terminate its relationship with ST:
- (a) upon giving ST not less than three (3) months' notice of termination, or
 - (b) immediately, upon giving notice of termination to ST, in the event of:
 - (i) ST becoming insolvent or going into liquidation (other than a voluntary liquidation for the purpose of reconstruction or merger) or administration or if some event having equivalent effect occurs, or
 - (ii) ST losing any applicable licence, registration or similar authority necessary to perform the Services and/or its obligations under these Terms and Conditions in the Relevant Jurisdiction (for whatever reason) and being unable to reinstate it within thirty (30) Business Days, or
 - (iii) ST committing a material breach of these Terms and Conditions, the Structure Documentation or any Agreement and, if such breach is capable of remedy, ST not making good such breach within one (1) month of service upon ST of notice requiring the remedy of such breach, provided that the Client shall not be entitled to terminate its relationship with ST pursuant to paragraphs (i) and/or (ii) if the circumstances described in those paragraphs relate only to one or more Associated Companies that are not engaged in the provision of Services to the Client.

- 15.6 In the event that work which ST has undertaken for the Client or Structure does not proceed to a conclusion or if the Client withdraws any Communications or fails to Communicate with ST, such that ST cannot reasonably be expected to conclude or provide the Services, ST will charge for all work done up to the point the matter is aborted together with all costs, disbursements and expenses paid on the Client's behalf. In such circumstances, ST will also charge for work done and all costs, disbursements and expenses associated with the orderly termination or the transfer of such work to another service provider, if applicable.
- 15.7 In the event ST provides the Client with notice that, pursuant to the provisions of this Clause, ST, an Associated Company or its Employees will cease to provide the Services and the Client fails to identify Persons willing and able to provide services, trustees or officers for the Structure (as appropriate) as soon as reasonably possible after notice is provided by ST to the Client, the Indemnified Persons shall not be liable for any Liabilities which result from the inaction of the Indemnified Persons in carrying out duties and obligations which they would have carried out had the Services not ceased to be provided.
- 15.8 Pending the appointment of replacement trustees, officers or service providers for the Structure upon the termination of the Services, ST shall continue to be entitled to Remuneration and these Terms and Conditions shall continue to apply for such period until replacement trustees, officers or service providers (as appropriate) are appointed or engaged.
- 15.9 Upon ST communicating to the Client, in writing, its intention to resign, retire or be discharged as the (or a) trustee of a Trust, the Client undertakes to use its best endeavours and take, or procure the taking of, all such steps reasonably necessary and/or required in the relevant circumstances in order to assist and facilitate the prompt and lawful resignation, retirement, or discharge of ST as trustee of any Trust, including doing all such things and signing all such documents reasonably necessary in order to find and/or appoint a replacement trustee of any Trust. ST acknowledges that, despite a termination of the Services under these Terms and Conditions, ST does not cease to be a trustee of any Trust until such time as ST has lawfully resigned, retired and/or been discharged or replaced (if applicable) as trustee of any Trust.
- 15.10 ST reserves the right, with immediate effect and without liability, to terminate the relationship with the Client and to terminate any Agreement and to cease to provide the Services if its client acceptance or Due Diligence Reviews have not been completed or maintained to the satisfaction of ST. The time at which such information and documentation is required and the form in which it shall be delivered to ST shall be determined by ST in its absolute discretion.
16. Rights to survive termination
- 16.1 Unless the context requires otherwise, the obligations imposed by these Terms and Conditions on the Client shall not be affected by the termination of the Services.
17. Discretions
- 17.1 Nothing in these Terms and Conditions shall limit the manner in which ST will exercise discretionary powers vested in it by the Client, the Structure Documentation or an Agreement or for the Client's or Structure's benefit or otherwise in connection with the Services. As to ST's discretionary or other powers, ST shall act by its properly appointed officers.
18. Exoneration
- 18.1 To the extent permissible by Law, where ST is acting in relation to a Structure, neither it nor any Associated Company or Employee shall be liable for any loss or damage directly or indirectly caused or suffered by any Client or any other Person including costs and expenses incurred as a result of the actions of ST or any Associated Company or Employee other than loss or damage suffered as a result of dishonesty, actual fraud, wilful default or wilful misconduct or Gross Negligence.

- 18.2 To the fullest extent permitted by Law and despite any other provision of these Terms and Conditions, ST shall not be liable for:
- (a) indirect, incidental, special, or consequential losses,
 - (b) loss of profits,
 - (c) loss of revenue,
 - (d) loss of savings (actual or anticipated),
 - (e) loss of goodwill; arising out of or in connection with these Terms and Conditions or any Agreement (whether or not foreseeable and regardless of the type of action in which such a claim may be brought).
- 18.3 ST shall be under no duty or obligation whatsoever to the Client or the Structure or any other Person in circumstances where the fulfilment of that duty or obligation may (as determined by ST in its own absolute discretion) involve ST in the commission of a criminal offence or make ST liable as constructive trustee to any third party as a result thereof.
- 18.4 ST will not be responsible for any act or omission on the part of any Delegate that is not an ST Delegate, or on the part of its servants, agents or by others engaged by that Delegate to act on the Client's or Structure's behalf.
- 18.5 No responsibility is accepted by ST in respect of any act or omission of any third party who may have placed reliance on the performance of the Services for the Client or the Structure by ST or on any advice given by ST to the Client or the Structure.
19. Indemnity
- 19.1 Subject to Clause 19.2 below, notwithstanding any additional indemnity in the Structure Documentation, any Agreement or the Supplemental Administration Terms, the Client shall indemnify each of the Indemnified Persons to the greatest extent permitted by Law from and against the Liabilities.
- 19.2 ST undertakes to take all reasonable but commercially prudent steps to mitigate the Liabilities that are indemnifiable by the Client to the Indemnified Persons.
- 19.3 The Client acknowledges and agrees that in connection with the indemnification obligations entered into by the Client under these Terms and Conditions, ST is acting for itself and for each of the other Indemnified Persons as trustee and holder of the right or claim on their behalf. The Client further agrees with ST to indemnify the Indemnified Persons and each of them in respect of the Liabilities and to reimburse the Indemnified Persons for all costs and expenses (including legal and other professional fees).
- 19.4 For the avoidance of doubt, the Client's undertaking and indemnity shall extend to ST's agents and Delegates mutatis mutandis as if ST's agents and Delegates were listed as persons to whom the undertaking and indemnity is given and ST shall hold the benefit of the undertaking and indemnity on trust for the said agents and Delegates and their heirs, successors, assigns and personal representatives. On the cessation by ST of the whole or any part of its duties, the Client undertakes that the indemnities referred to in these Terms and Conditions remain valid in the absence of actual fraud, Gross Negligence or wilful default on the part of the party seeking to enforce the indemnity. The Client shall hold the Indemnified Persons harmless and shall indemnify the Indemnified Persons against any and all loss, damage or Liabilities resulting to the Client or the Structure arising directly or indirectly from an Indemnified Person accepting Communications given by telephone, facsimile, email or any other means of communication with or without authentication.

- 19.5 Notwithstanding the provisions of this Clause 19 and/or any other Clause in these Terms and Conditions to the contrary, ST shall not be indemnified by the Client for ST's own costs and expenses in the event of ST being negligent under the provisions of these Terms and Conditions.

20. Force majeure

- 20.1 ST shall have no liability for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder or the provision of the Services or for loss or damage of whatever kind and wherever occurring resulting from factors over which it has no control including, but without limitation, acts of God, acts of civil or military authority or governmental acts, earthquakes, fires, storms, tempests, floods, terrorist acts, wars, civil or military disturbances, sabotage, epidemics, riots, accidents, labour disputes, strikes, industrial action, loss or malfunction of utilities, computers (hardware or software) or communication services, errors, omissions, distortions, interruptions and/or delays in transmissions or delivery of post or communications in any medium or format howsoever caused or for loss or damage of whatever kind and wherever occurring outside of the ST's control.

21. Enforcement and validity

- 21.1 If ST chooses at its discretion not to enforce any term which forms part of these Terms and Conditions or the Supplemental Administration Terms, this will not prejudice ST's rights to either enforce such term at a later date or to enforce the rest of these Terms and Conditions or the Supplemental Administration Terms.
- 21.2 If any terms of these Terms and Conditions or the Supplemental Administration Terms or any provision of the Structure Documentation or any Agreement is invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such term or provision (as the case may be) shall either:
- (a) be deleted, or
 - (b) if such term or provision would be valid or enforceable if some part of it were deleted or modified, the term or provision in question shall apply with whatever deletion or modification is necessary to make it valid or enforceable, and, in either case, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired.

22. Notices

- 22.1 Any notice required to be given by any Person to any other Person under these Terms and Conditions or the Supplemental Administration Terms shall be in writing and shall be delivered to such address, fax number or email address as is from time to time notified to the other Person. As regards ST, unless otherwise notified in writing, notice shall be deemed to have been served if delivered to ST's registered office address set out in clause 1 of Schedule 1.
- 22.2 Any notice shall be deemed to have been served:
- (a) if delivered by hand or courier, on delivery,
 - (b) if sent by prepaid post, three (3) Business Days after posting,

- (c) if sent internationally by airmail, seven (7) Business Days after posting,

- (e) if sent by email, at the time of receipt of the email, except where the recipient is a business and the email is sent outside of the normal business hours of the recipient, the email shall be deemed to have been given at the time the recipient's office next opens for business (provided that no report of transmission or other message transfer failure is received by the Person sending the email).

23. Applicable law and place of jurisdiction

- 23.1 These Terms and Conditions and the Supplemental Administration Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the Laws of the Relevant Jurisdiction.
- 23.2 Notwithstanding any other clause in these Terms and Conditions and/or the Supplemental Administration Terms, and subject to clause 23.3 below, the Client and ST hereby irrevocably agree, for the sole benefit of ST, that the courts of the Relevant Jurisdiction shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute or claim (including non-contractual disputes or claims) arising out of or in connection with these Terms and Conditions and/or the Supplemental Administration Terms or their subject matter or formation.
- 23.3 Nothing in this clause 23 shall limit the right of ST to take proceedings against the Client in any other court of competent jurisdiction, nor shall the taking of proceedings in any one or more jurisdictions preclude the taking of proceedings in any other jurisdictions, whether concurrently or not, to the extent permitted by the law of such other jurisdiction.

Data protection principles

We will comply with the relevant data protection principles contained in the DP Laws. This means that the Personal Data we hold about you must be:

1. Used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way.
2. Collected only for valid purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes.
3. Relevant to the purposes we have told you about and limited only to those purposes.
4. Accurate and kept up to date.
5. Kept only as long as necessary for the purposes we have told you about.
6. Kept securely.

The kind of information we hold about you

Personal Data, or personal information means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified, as defined in the Data Protection Legislation. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

There are 'special categories' of more sensitive Personal Data that require a higher level of protection.

We may collect, store, and use the following categories of personal information about you:

- Personal contact details such as name, title, addresses, telephone numbers, and personal email addresses.
- Former names.
- Date of birth.
- Place of birth.
- Nationality.
- Passport number and country of issue.
- Tax Identification Number.
- Tax Residency.

- Occupation, name of employer, nature of employment.
- Business address.
- Whether you have held a public position or office.
- Source of funds, source of wealth information.
- Copy of driving licence or ID card, where applicable.

We may also collect, store and use the following 'special categories' of more sensitive personal information:

- Information about your health, including any medical condition, health and sickness records.
- Information about criminal convictions and offences.

How is your personal information collected?

We typically collect personal information about you through our client take-on process, either directly from you as you complete our mandatory forms, from a third-party advisor (such as your lawyer), from publicly available sources or a subscription identification verification database.

We may collect additional personal information in the course of our business relationship with you.

How we will use information about you?

We will only ever use your personal information when the DP Laws permits or compels us. Most commonly, we will use your personal information in the following circumstances:

1. To verify your identity and protect against fraud and to fulfil our anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism obligations.
2. Where it is necessary to perform the Agreement we have entered into with you.
3. Where it is necessary to comply with a legal obligation.
4. Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.

We may also use your personal information in the following situations, which are likely to be rare:

1. Where we need to protect your interests (or someone else's interests).
2. Where it is needed in the public interest (or for official purposes).

Situations in which we will use your personal information

We need all the categories of information in the list above (see "The kind of information we hold about you") primarily to allow us to perform the Services and to enable us to comply with our legal obligations. Examples of the situations in which we will process your personal information are listed below. We have indicated the purpose (or purposes) for which we are processing (or will process) your personal information, as well as indicating the categories of data involved.

During the course of our business relationship, we may:

- Where we are compelled, or permitted to do so by law, disclose your personal information to any law enforcement agency or regulatory body.
- Open, maintain or administer bank accounts.
- Open, maintain or administer portfolio investment accounts with third party agents.
- Consult with legal counsel for the purposes of obtaining legal advice.
- Consult with tax advisors for the purposes of obtaining tax advice.
- Submit tax reporting information as required by legislation.
- Provide registered office and registered agent facilities in Switzerland or other jurisdictions.

Some of the above grounds for processing will overlap and there may be several which require our use of your personal information.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide certain information when requested, we may not be able to provide the Services you have required, as this may prevent us from complying with our legal obligations such as to fulfil our anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism obligations.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal information for the purposes necessary for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by the DP Laws or other local laws.

How we use particularly sensitive personal information?

'Special categories' of particularly sensitive personal information require higher levels of protection. We need to have further justification for collecting, storing and using this type of personal information. We may process special categories of personal information in the following circumstances:

1. In limited circumstances, but only with your explicit written consent.
2. Where we need to carry out our legal obligations and in line with our Privacy Policy.

Less commonly, we may process this type of information where it is required in relation to legal claims or where it is needed to protect your interests (or another person's interests) and you are incapable of giving your consent, or where you have already made the information public.

High risk data use

We are required by the DP Laws to determine whether the use of your personal information carries a high risk of 'physical, material or non-material damage' to you. We have put in place procedures to assess whether the use of your personal information is considered to be high-risk. In the unlikely event that the use of your personal information is considered to be 'high risk' our Data Protection Officer shall take certain measures to address such risk and any suspected data breach shall be notified to you immediately where we are required by the DP Laws to do so.

Our obligations as an employer

Each and every one of our employees is responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of all personal information to which they have access. As an express condition of their contracts of employment, our employees must assume and maintain obligations of confidentiality which endure beyond the cessation of employment.

All employees are required to undertake mandatory data protection training on a regular basis which reinforces their responsibilities and obligations in maintaining the privacy and confidentiality of your personal information.

Do we need your consent?

We do not need your consent if we use special categories of your personal information to carry out our legal obligations. In limited circumstances, we may approach you (or your representative) for written consent to allow us to process certain particularly sensitive data. If we do so, we will provide full details of the information that we would like and the reason we need it, so that you may consider if you wish to consent.

Information about unlawful activity

We may only process information relating to unlawful activity where the DP Laws or other local laws allows us to do so. We will use financial crime or other background check agencies to screen you as part of the client take-on process, or we may be notified of such information directly by you in the course of our business relationship. We will use information about unlawful activity to fulfil our Anti-Money Laundering and Combating the Financing of Terrorism obligations.

Automated decision-making

Automated decision-making takes place when an electronic system uses personal information to make a decision without human intervention.

We do not envisage that any decisions will be taken about you using automated means, however we will notify you in writing if this position changes.

Data sharing

We may have to share your personal information with third parties, including third-party service providers and other Saffery Trust offices. We require third parties to respect the security of your personal information and to treat it in accordance with the DP Laws. We may transfer your personal information outside of Switzerland. How secure is my information with third-party service providers and other entities in our group?

All our third-party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal information for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal information for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

When might you share my personal information with other Saffery Trust offices?

We may share your personal information with other Saffery Trust offices to provide services during the course of our business relationship (such as registered office/agent or tax advice).

Transferring information outside Switzerland

We may transfer the personal information we collect about you to other countries in order to perform our Services for you. Some of the countries to which we transfer your data are not deemed by the Swiss Federal Council to provide an adequate level of protection for your personal information.

However, to ensure that your personal information does receive an adequate level of protection and is treated by those third parties in a way that is consistent with and which respects the Data Protection Legislation, we have put in place a data processing agreement to be used in conjunction with European Union Standard Contract Clauses. We will also ensure that one or more mechanisms are available to you to enforce your rights under the DP Laws. If you require further information about this protective measure, you can request it from our Data Protection Officer.

Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal information to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal information on our instructions and where they have agreed to treat the information confidentially and to keep it secure. Details of these measures may be obtained from our Data Protection Officer.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

Data retention - how long will you use my information for?

We will retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for. The length of time we retain your personal information depends on:

- the purposes for which we process your personal information.
- any legal or regulatory requirement we may have to meet.

For example, we must be able to respond to any concerns you may have, even if you are no longer a client. We have retention policies in place that govern the destruction of personal information.

In some circumstances, we may anonymise your personal information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you. Once your business relationship with us has ended we will retain and/or securely destroy your personal information in accordance with our data retention policy and applicable laws and regulations.

Should require any further information about how long we will retain your personal information please contact the Data Protection Officer in writing.

Your duty to inform us of changes

We are committed to maintaining the accuracy of your personal information for as long as it is being used for the purposes set out in the policy, and provided that you keep us up to date. Prompt notification of any changes, such as your address, email address or telephone number, will help us provide you with the best possible service. Should you discover, upon review of your personal information, that amendments are required, please advise us immediately. We will make our best efforts to advise others of any important amendments to your personal information that we may have released to them. Failure to provide accurate information or to update changed information may have an impact on the service we provide to you.

Your rights in connection with personal information

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a 'data subject access request'). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.

- Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.
- Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).
- Object to processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation that makes you want to object to processing on this ground.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal information, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact our Data Protection Officer in writing.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable administrative fee if you request a further copy of your personal information. Alternatively, where any part of your request is unfounded, excessive, unnecessary or repetitive we may refuse to comply with the requests.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who is not entitled to receive it.

Right to withdraw consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact our Data Protection Officer in writing. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your personal information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.
